Commissioner Koiner is mail the November Bulletin No. 55,000 farmer and others Virginia. This publication is read by every farmer in the State. It deals with the economic side of farming. The first article "How to Grow the Farm" is full of practical suggestions with the deductory statement that the on the average farm, if planted, would mean nice and make a brighter in the history of farm article on "Losses in Farm" gives some astounding figures and places the loss by poor care and treatment a greater sum than fertilizer used in Virginia, which is $7,000,000.00 annually. The "Care of Farm Machinery" is another important article showing how losses occur on the farm. The statement is made that the life time of our farm machinery could be better care, making repairs in time, for proper housing.

"How to Make Pork at the Lowest Cost" is an article that should interest hog raisers. The farmer's wife will, no doubt, be thankful to the Commissioner for the article on "Winter Wood Supply."

There is considerable inquiry by Virginia farmers as to the value and use of Ground Rock Phosphate. A very clear and comprehensive statement is made as to the circumstances under which this material should be used. The "Importance of the Winter Cover Crop" is emphasized. In another article the fruit grower is urged to pay more attention to "Winter Spraying" in order to destroy the scale more effectually and suggests that concentrated Lime-Sulphur should be used at the strength of one to eight, that is; one gallon of Lime-Sulphur to eight gallons of water.

Pig Iron Production and Capacity.

Pig iron was made in the United States during October at the record rate of 32,000,000 tons a year, including charcoal pig iron, as indicated by our monthly blast furnace report published a week ago. This is a new record rate, passing that of the winter of 1909-10.

The performance, considering the conditions, reinforces the estimate already made in these columns, that the country's full commercial pig iron capacity, under ordinary conditions, is between 33,000,000 and 34,000,000 tons. The October production, it must be remembered, could not be continued for a twelve-month by the furnaces in blast during that month. October is always a month of particularly good performance by individual blast furnaces; March being another good month for operation. Then it is to be considered that after a few months of relatively full operation, the number of furnaces requiring to be blown out for relining increases so that it would not be fair to add to the present rate of production an allowance for the full number of furnaces now idle, to obtain the country's full capacity. Some of the furnaces now idle must be taken as balancing furnaces now in blast but which will have to be relined during the next twelve months.

A capacity even of 34,000,000 tons a year is not large for this country for 1913, considering the demand there has been in the past, which has, as a rule, involved a doubling every 10 years. Indeed, by comparison with the records of the past, a capacity of 34,000,000 tons is small rather than large, for the present, and the actual condition today is that while possibly the furnaces are in existence and physically fit to operate, the raw materials are not available. As has been pointed out before, the trade is so aligned at the present time that the governing element is not the physical capacity of the blast furnaces but the supply of coke.—The Iron Trade Review.

Canada purposes adding three powerful battleships at a cost of $35,000,000 to the naval defense of the British empire. The vessels are to be built in Great Britain and will form part of the British fleet but they can be recalled to form part of a Canadian navy should such a step be necessary.

Killing Not Results Of Probe in Lee County.

Jonesville, Va., Dec. 14.—The Circuit Court of Lee County, which has been in session here for the past two weeks, adjourned today. All of this week has been devoted to criminal business. Five felonies were tried and resulted in a conviction in every case.

The first case tried was that against Perry Wallen for the killing of Dr. James V. Wallen. The jury found the accused guilty of manslaughter and gave him four years in the penitentiary. This is the case of which there was much newspaper notoriety a few months ago, it having been erroneously reported that the killing was the result of the election investigation in this county last spring. It was shown at the trial that there had been ill feeling between these parties for several years, which culminated in the killing.

The second case was that against Thomas Fleener charged with the murder of M. D. Deany, a county policeman. This tragedy occurred at the County Fair here last September. Fleener was found guilty of murder in the second degree and sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary.

Lee Anders when brought before the court on a charge of house breaking, plead guilty and was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.

James Heron was tried and found guilty of shooting George King, a mine boss at Keokee, and was given two years in the penitentiary.

J. K. Gates, charged with attempt to kill W. A. Lea, policeman, at Keokee, was given six months in jail.

Mat Belcher, who shot and killed A. J. McLean at St. Charles more than four years ago, and made his escape, was lodged in jail here last night by Deputy Sheriff C. E. Garrett. It is understood that Belcher has been in Eastern Kentucky, where he originally lived and where he has many kindred, but he has succeeded in eluding arrest until a few days ago, when he was captured at Pineville, Ky., and held there until requisition could be obtained to bring him to Virginia. His case will stand for trial at February term of court.

Presidents of rail road companies operating more than 39,000 miles of line, and having securities outstanding in the hands of the public to an aggregate amount of fully four billion dollars, financiers controlling directly not less than $500,000,000 resources, together with other men of big affairs, assembled in Philadelphia recently and after discussing the conditions of the country, reached the most optimistic conclusions concerning the future.
